All three are necessary for a successful product/service venture: the first, in producing it, the second, in marketing it, and the third for both producing and marketing it. Technological knowledge is the knowledge of materials and components, and knowledge of linkages between components, methods, processes and techniques of production (e.g., sizing, packaging, customizing, labeling). WE DESIGN. We live in a 3 dimensional world so we think, design and work in 3D. Our applications and technology follow a path to maximize creativity with technical reality – images, influences and ideas through to 3D drafting and technical layouts.
